

TEACHING FOR WILD UNITY

Name	Date	Phone	City & State
Email	Business Name		Website

Please tell us why you are interested in teaching yoga classes for Wild Unity, what limbs of yoga you would like to teach, what "type" of yoga you prefer to teach, and what days and times you may be available to teach.

Our 501(c)3 charter includes easing "distress through layered approaches that honor ancient lineages of yoga". To contract teach for Wild Unity, you must have completed a 200 or 300 hour yoga teacher training recognized by Yoga Alliance OR another training (not recognized by YA) offering similar depth and expanse in the categories of: Techniques & Practice, Anatomy & Physiology, Yoga Humanities, Professional Essentials, Teaching Methodology, Ethics, and Practicum. Please summarize the training you have completed (dates, school, program name, duration).

Our 501(c)3 charter requires includes easing "distress through culturally diverse and layered approaches". To contract teach for Wild Unity, you must have a passion for diversity and equity, be able to teach "off the mat" and offer modifications for varying conditions. Please summarize your experience with diversity and equity, AND offering multiple limbs of yoga in the same setting (in addition to asana and pranayama).

Our 501(c)3 charter requires includes easing distress. To contract teach for Wild Unity, you must be able to teach "off the mat", have liability insurance and offer modifications for varying conditions. Please describe what Teaching Off the Mat means to you, what health conditions you have experience with offering modifications for, and general information about your current liability insurance for teaching yoga.

Is there anything else you would like to tell us about yourself? Please include references here as well.

Contract pay for teaching is based upon funding of our 501(c)3 available (opportunities for volunteering are optional). Please choose the contract pay per hour that you propose.

We are so grateful that you are interested and have taken time to complete this form!
Please email completed form to wildunityks@gmail.com.